

At Christ the Sower Ecumenical Primary School, we want to prepare our pupils for the life that lies ahead of them, and we believe that explicit teaching of behaviour is an integral and essential part of this.

Our CARE Cultural Curriculum and has been designed to build our pupil's character; alongside their knowledge and understanding of the world, laying the foundations for future success. Our behaviour curriculum is fully underpinned by our CARE ethos and Christian values. We teach good behaviour through clear expectations, routines, and opportunities for all staff and children to rehearse, model, and refine.

We want our pupils to make good CHOICES, ASPIRE highly and work hard, REFLECT, to understand how and why they behave the way that they do and ENGAGE with others in open, friendly, and collaborative ways.

Our behaviour curriculum is designed to be accessible for pupils from Nursery to Year Six and is adapted to suit the needs of all pupils, including those with SEND and other additional needs – we want every child to succeed.

The aims of the behaviour curriculum

Successful relationships at CTS are underpinned by the positive ethos promoted in our CARE Culture; a culture which demands high expectations of staff and of pupils and which also demonstrates respect, tolerance, and understanding of difference, in the drive towards equity of opportunity and high aspirations for all. We are fostering a culture of exceptionally good behaviour: for learning, for the community, and for life.

We are building a community that values kindness, care, respect, tolerance, and empathy for others. We firmly believe that it is our role to teach learners how to self-regulate, become independent and resilient, manage their own behaviour and emotions, reflect, learn from mistakes and accept the consequences of their actions with grace.

We encourage pupils to value the diversity in our society and the environment in which they live whilst becoming active and responsible citizens, contributing to the community and wider society. By encouraging positive behaviour, we can promote good relationships, built on trust and understanding. We believe that as pupils practise these behaviours, over time they become habits that will positively shape how they feel about themselves and how other people perceive them. As philosopher Paul Durant states “We are what we repeatedly do. Excellence, then, is not an act, but a habit.” (1926)

Teaching the Curriculum

Good behaviours are explicitly taught and regularly refreshed to ensure all pupils understand our expectations of them. AT CTS our behaviour and expectations set out clear parameters for behaviours for learning, standards and routines so that we have a shared and consistent language of expectations across the school. The curriculum is taught explicitly during the first week in the Autumn term. Children should learn the content of the curriculum so that they can recall the information and act upon it. At the start of each term, the CTS learning behaviours curriculum is revisited with pupils and will continue to be reinforced throughout the year.

All CTS staff also model these behaviours and we ensure that pupils have many opportunities to practise these (particularly in the first few days of term). It is expected that all pupils will know this content

- IDENTIFY the behaviour we expect
 - Explicitly TEACH behaviour
 - MODEL the behaviour we are expecting
 - PRACTISE behaviour
 - SUPPORT pupils and parents when they need additional strategies.
 - REWARD and NOTICE excellent behaviour
 - CREATE conditions for excellent behaviour
- All staff know and understand our behaviour policy and curriculum, they model and teach it explicitly to children and continuously maintain the high standards we set. By doing so we support each other to create a culture where pupils feel safe and are able to learn in an optimised environment and where teachers are free to teach
- All classrooms use the same consistent rewards and approach and all children and staff are clear on the rewards and sanctions in place.

Making Adjustments and Adding Support.

While our behaviour curriculum is for all pupils it will be applied differently in different year groups depending on pupils' ages and may be applied differently depending on individual pupils' SEND needs. For example, pupils who have autistic spectrum conditions may find it very uncomfortable to maintain eye contact with adults. Sensitivity must be applied at all times when teaching the curriculum unimpeded. The following strategies are deeply embedded in our school culture to underpin our work at all times.

Zones of Regulation	Pastoral Support	Trauma Informed
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ We recognise the importance of promoting positive mental health and emotional well-being to our children and their families. ✓ We use the Zones of Regulation, to teach all our children to identify emotions in themselves and others and provide them with a bank of strategies to help regulate their emotions and improve their well-being. ✓ The Zones also help children to recognise their own triggers, learn to read facial expressions, develop problem-solving skills, and become more attuned to how their actions affect other people. ✓ Children are encouraged to develop their own toolkit. Considering questions such as: What helps you to calm down when you are stressed? e.g. squeeze a fidget ball. ✓ There are ZONES displays in all classrooms and in the corridors. Our SENDco regularly refreshes staff training in this regard and the ZOR have a high profile in school. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ We have dedicated pastoral support built into our school team. ✓ Our SMHL works with individual and small groups of children to develop their ability to self-regulate and function at their best in school. ✓ Through working closely with families, we know and understand our children incredibly well as individuals, we know their triggers and circumstances and so are able to pre-empt, respond and plan for bumps in the road effectively as a team. ✓ All classrooms have 'ask it baskets' in, so that children know they can raise issues and ask questions at any time. ✓ All children identify their 5 safe adults at the start of the academic year and this is continually reinforced in class. ✓ The CARE Curriculum adapts to meet the needs of our pupils, so SLT and teachers will adapt or insert lessons to meet needs or issues as they arise. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ We Support children who have suffered from trauma or mental health problems and whose behaviour acts as a barrier to learning. ✓ We make reasonable adjustments at every opportunity for those children who need additional support to meet the expectations of the behaviour curriculum. ✓ All staff are trained in Trauma-informed and ASC approaches to behaviour management.

These approaches are linked to the PSHCE curriculum with regards to pupil wellbeing and mental health

Behaviour SMSC and British Values	Democracy at CTS <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ❖ We have a School Council with members from all classes across school. ❖ The Council meets regularly and in the meetings the children's views and ideas are sought, and they help make decisions and then feedback to their classes. ❖ They also collect class views which they bring to their meetings and are involved in fund-raising for the school. ❖ We have an elected school ECO-Warriors club that makes decisions about the carbon footprint of our school, and works with the ODBST on reducing our emissions in line with our commitments. ❖ We have elected House Captains and a Head Boy and Head Girl from Year 6 who fulfil their roles each year following a comprehensive election process that includes an application letter, interview and speech. 	Mutual Respect at CTS: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ❖ Respect is one of our school values. Pupils are taught the value of and reasons behind CARE and the responsibilities that this involves and the consequences when rules are broken. ❖ We have a variety of rewards when children uphold CARE and show a committed approach to learning and behaviour. This includes the opportunity to be in the Golden Book, stickers, House Points, DOJO points, Golden Certificates, Behaviour Champion Badges and CARE rewards. These show children the rules are valued that by keeping them they will be rewarded. ❖ Our Behaviour Policy is underpinned by our CARE value of 'Reflection' and children are invited to reflect on their behaviour and make amends when they have broken one of our school rules, been unkind or disrupted learning for their peers. This route is always followed, even when an additional consequence is needed for more serious incidents. We understand that children are learning to follow rules and so we adapt our curriculum as necessary to respond to behaviour incidents that occur from time to time.
