A Loving Place, Where we CARE, Learn and Grow Together`

We have had a very full week, at the end of an incredibly busy but ultimately very successful half term. We have been told during external reviews, that we are making exceptional progress towards our school targets, which has been fantastic to hear. We were obviously thrilled to receive our Ofsted report at the end of the last term, and to achieve recognition that we are now, firmly a GOOD school. However, we have not rested on our laurels, and we continue to work hard to make sure that our school is the best that it possibly can be.

My team could not have worked any harder or been any more determined to improve the outcomes for every single child across the whole of this term. This school really is a very special place, every child is known well here, they are understood, and they are loved by a team that are all determined to help them achieve their full academic, emotional and spiritual potential.

We appreciate all of your support this half term, it has been lovely to meet so many of you, when you have come into school for celebration assemblies, coffee mornings and to support in school. We ask, that if you have any concerns, please do come and speak to us directly, as that will mean that we are able to correct issues and misconceptions quickly. We work very hard to be approachable and honest in our communications with you. Have a wonderful half term break and we will see you again on Monday 26th February.
