Dear Parents/Carers,

16th November 2019

We had a very special assembly on Tuesday afternoon to celebrate us becoming part of the ODBST family of schools. Our CEO Davis Cousins came for the assembly which was led by Bishop Alan, the Bishop of Buckingham. I know that they both enjoyed meeting some of you at the end of the day. All the children were given a special leather book mark to keep, which we hope they will keep safe and help them remember CtS over the years. It might be a good idea to name them!

This week we also introduced our new behaviour policy and routines to the children. The school council were instrumental in helping us to create the policy and guidelines. They took this responsibility very seriously and came up with some brilliant ideas. The policy has been approved by the Interim Academy Committee so we would now like to share it with you. Mr Marshall, our behaviour lead, will be running an information session on Monday night and we would welcome as many of you as possible to come along and share our new policy. On Wednesday and Thursday the Chaplaincy Team organised very successful Prayer Space sessions for the children to enjoy. You'll be able to read more about this in Chaplaincy Corner on the next page. Today's Children in Need Talent contest was really enjoyable. Sadly I was unable to be there but I've been told how talented some of our children are - well done to everyone.

And so... another busy week next week to look forward to. Have a good weekend everyone.

Kind Regards,

Mrs Lorraine Quirk — Executive Head Teacher

CHAPLAINCY CORNER

This week began with a special collective worship for remembrance. This was made extra special by the wonderful home learning we could share that Y5 and 6 have done on WW2. We also learnt about Sadako from Japan and reflected on what it means to be peacemakers. Rev Mike followed this up with a brilliant story that tested our maths, as well as our peace making skills! Mrs Summerfield led us in a fun collective worship this morning to celebrate children in need. Well done to Kayden, Caleb and Freya who beat the teachers in the quiz. This week, please pray for Acorn class and Mrs Turner as they prepare to lead collective worship.
